

Terms of Service

For consumer

SGR Systems

Только SGR Systems и организации, получившие от SGR Systems письменную
лицензию, могут владеть данным материалом или использовать его.

Introduction

Reading terms of use is, of course, not particularly exciting. However, it is important that you understand the rules of conduct when using our services.

By using SGR Systems services, you fully agree to SGR's terms of service and commit to complying with them.

Age restrictions

If you have not yet reached the age required to independently use the platforms with which SGR Systems works, you may use SGR Systems' services only with the permission of a parent or legal guardian.

Your relationship with SGR Systems

These terms govern the relationship between you and SGR Systems. When we use the terms “we,” “SGR,” and “Sensmatic,” we refer to the SGR Systems project and its affiliates.

We grant you the right to use our services provided that you comply with our Terms of Service.

Using SGR Systems services

You are fully responsible for all actions involving SGR Systems services.

Using Sensmatic products requires a Discord account, a Roblox account, and registration with Parcel. This is necessary to store information regarding your license.

— What is a license?

This is a legal document or agreement between the rights holder and the user that defines the rules, terms, and restrictions regarding the use of the copyrighted software. Simply put, it grants the right to use our services, including the software we provide.

A license may be held either by an individual or by a group belonging to an individual who holds a valid license.

General rules

The main rules of use are listed here.
When using SGR Systems services...:

— Models

- You may not use any components of SGR products in third-party services or projects.
- You are prohibited from claiming ownership of SGR Systems models (for example, by claiming that you created them).
- You may modify the models, provided you adhere to the branding guidelines.

— Sharing

- You may not distribute SGR Systems models or other assets to other individuals.
- Reselling, exchanging, renting, or transferring any SGR Systems assets in exchange for compensation or payment—bypassing Sensmatic—is prohibited.
- You may not sell or provide model files that you have modified.

— Branding

- You are not permitted to remove or alter any SGR or SGR partner logos. You are also not permitted to add or replace Sensmatic logos with your own.

— Asset ownership

- You may not own assets (including files) that contain source code for SGR Systems services, or any other object for which you have not obtained usage rights.

— Leaking and piracy

- Any attempt to acquire products by bypassing the legitimate purchasing process via Sensmatic will be considered invalid. Unauthorised use of products without a license will also be treated as a violation.
- You are prohibited from attempting to obtain our system assets (such as modules or source codes).
- The creation, distribution, and use of any means to bypass our systems are prohibited.

— Refunds

- We are not providing any refunds

sgrsystems.com

Although our instructions contain a great deal of useful information, some questions may require further consultation. If you have any doubts, please contact our representative.